Story of Saint Marianne Cope

On January 23, 1838, Barbara (named after her mother) was born to Peter and Barbara Cope of Hessen-Darmstadt, Germany. The Cope family emigrated to the United States and settled in Utica, New York. Young Barbara worked in a factory until August 1862, when she went to the Sisters of the Third Order of Saint Francis in Syracuse, New York. After profession in November of the next year, she began teaching at Assumption parish school. Marianne held the post of superior in several places and was the novice mistress of her congregation. A natural leader, she was superior of St. Joseph's Hospital in Syracuse, where she learned much that would be useful during her years in Hawaii.

In 1877, Mother Marianne was elected provincial. Later in 1883, the Hawaiian government was searching for someone to run the Kakaako Receiving Station for people suspected of having leprosy. Mother Marianne and six other sisters left for Hawaii on October 22, 1883, where they took charge of the Kakaako Receiving Station outside Honolulu; on the island of Maui they also opened a hospital and a school for girls.

Mother Marianne and two sisters went to Molokai in 1888 to open a home for "unprotected women and girls". She took charge of the home that Saint Damien de Veuster had established for men and boys. Mother Marianne changed life on Molokai by introducing cleanliness, pride, and fun to the colony. Bright scarves and pretty dresses for the women were part of her approach.

Though leprosy scared off most people in 19th-century Hawaii, that disease sparked great generosity in the woman who came to be known as Mother Marianne of Molokai. Her courage helped tremendously to improve the lives of its victims in Hawaii, a territory annexed to the United States during her lifetime (1898).

Mother Marianne died on August 9, 1918 and was beatified in 2005 and canonized seven years later.

Sunday Reflection

What are you looking for?

Andrew was a disciple of John the Baptist, but he knew that John wasn't the Messiah—and that's who he was looking for. Today, let's reflect on this Gospel passage to give us insight into our own searching and finding.

"What are you looking for?" . Have you ever asked yourself that question? We all experience a longing at times—and we might not even know why. We may try to satisfy that inner ache with something fleeting, and it may satisfy us for a time. But the longing always returns, because what we are looking for can't be found outside of us. We are searching for God.

"Come, and you will see" . We have to be willing to take a step in faith and accept this invitation from Jesus to spend some time with him. Jesus might be inviting us to speak with him in Eucharistic Adoration or to delve more deeply into the Scriptures. He might want us to find a brother or sister in Christ to guide and accompany us. But if we don't take that first step, we won't be able to "see" him.

"We have found the Messiah" . Andrew was so excited when he met Jesus that he found his brother, Simon, and told him the good news. That's the joy we too feel when we turn to Jesus and experience his love and mercy. We realize, once again, that only he can truly fulfill us.

We will all experience longings from time to time and feel tempted to satisfy them in all the wrong places. What "wrong places" do you tend to go to? Do these quick fixes really satisfy? Today, ask the Holy Spirit to prompt you to go to the Lord when you're feeling those yearnings. Only by making a conscious effort to "come and see" Jesus will you finally find what you have been looking for all along.

"Jesus, help me to see that only you can satisfy the deepest desires of my heart."
