He's alive!

They put him to death by hanging him on a tree, but God raised him on the third day and granted that he be visible. The stone, the builders rejected, has become the Cornerstone. And his mercy endures forever. ALLELUIA!

As we celebrate the most important event in human history, let us keep in mind that we are called to embody Christ's resurrection, daily. As Luke tells us today, everyone who believes in Him will receive forgiveness of sins through His name. If we believe we are redeemed in the resurrection of the Lord, we must think, speak, and act like redeemed people. We must love and serve God and neighbor.

To be redeemed is not only a spiritual matter; it's a core to our humanity. For to be human is to fall and rise, again and again. To deny anyone the opportunity to be redeemed is to negate an inherently human capacity.

We are the body of Christ, the resurrected body. What affects one affects all. What is denied one is denied all. Today let's ask ourselves and each other: What kind of body do we want to be? Do we want a body that routinely and systematically deals with its social sins by vilifying, dehumanizing, caging, and killing its most disadvantaged members?

Peter and the other disciple did not yet understand the Scriptures that Jesus had to rise from the dead—the greatest paradox. He had to die so we can live. He was sentenced to death and defeated death. For us.

Jesus is alive! The Word became flesh, dwelt among us, was executed, and rose on the third day. Let's rejoice—and act.

Too many of us have been rejected by the builders of the world—permanently. But the ultimate Builder desires for all His children to be free.

The Cornerstone has redeemed us and deemed each stone essential to the kingdom of God. None are to be thrown away.

We rise or crumble together.
Let us Gather! Let us Build!
Let us Rise

MAHALO INTENTIONS

The best way to remember our dearly departed is by praying for them. And the best prayer we can offer is the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass.

Masses can be offered for health and healing, birthday blessings, in thanksgiving, etc. So we encourage you to visit the parish office and register.

MAHALO
