The Seven Precepts of the Church

The Catechism of the Catholic Church lists 5 precepts. The last two are included elsewhere in the catechism but are not listed as precepts. And they are equally important. The original seven are listed here for historic educational value.

- I. To attend Mass on Sundays and Holy Days of Obligation, and resting from servile works.
- II. To observe the days of abstinence and fasting.
- III. To confess our sins to a priest, at least once a year.
- IV. To receive Our Lord Jesus Christ in the Holy Eucharist at least once a year during Easter Season.
- V. To contribute to the support of the Church.
- VI. To obey the laws of the Church concerning Matrimony.
- VII. To participate in the Church's mission of Evangelization of Souls.

The Fathers of Monasticism

One of the reasons why the Church spread so effectively would be the establishment of monasteries. The first Christian monks were called "Desert Fathers." These were hermits who organized themselves into communities. Four men are credited for having led people into the monastic life. St. Anthony of Egypt is the over-all "Father of Monasticism." St. Basil the Great is called "Father of Eastern Monasticism" St. Benedict of Nursia is the "Father of Western Monasticism." St. Pachomius is the "Father of Cenobitical Monasticism."

JESUS THE PRIEST

In the Old Testament, the Lord established a priesthood that would offer the sacrifices of animals to God on behalf of the Jewish people. In our New Testament, we now have a great high priest: Jesus Christ, who offers up Himself on the cross as a sacrifice so powerful that no other sacrifice needs to be offered. In the Mass, we have Christ continuing to offer that same sacrifice through the mystical realities of our liturgy. At Mass, it is as if we have been transported backward in time to both Good Friday and Easter Sunday, to the moment of the crucifixion and resurrection of the Lord. On Good Friday, our sacrifice was offered; on Easter Sunday, that same sacrifice, Jesus Christ, was raised up. Within our parish priest who celebrates the Mass, Christ is at work, changing our liturgy from a simple reenactment to a powerful reliving of that Great Event. It is Christ who offers up the Eucharist, His body and blood, to God our father.
