Our Lady of The Rosary Novena

Queen of the Most Holy Rosary in these times of such brazen implety, show your power with the signs of your former victories. Look with mercy on the Church of your Son, on His Vicar on earth, and on all the clergy and laity, who are sorely oppressed in this mighty conflict. Powerful vanguisher of all neresies, hasten the hour of mercy even though the hour of God's justice is every day provoked by the countless sins of men. As I

neel before you in prayer, obtain for me my requests

(Mention your request here...)

Queen of the Most Holy Rosary, pray for us.

Say 1: Our Father... Say 1: Hail Mary... Say 1: Glory Be ...

Our Lady of the Holy Rosary Novena Prayer

My dearest Mother Mary, behold me, your child, in prayer at your feet. Accept this Holy Rosary, which I offer you in accordance with your requests at Fatima, as a proof of my tender love for you, for the intentions of the Sacred Heart of Jesus, in atonement for the offenses committed against your mmaculate Heart, and for this special favor which I earnestly request in my Rosary ovena: (Mention your request).

beg you to present my petition to your Divine Son. If you will oray for me, I cannot be refused. I know, dearest Mother, that ou want me to seek God's holy Will concerning my request. If what I ask for should not be granted, pray that I may receive that which will be of greater benefit to my soul offer you this spiritual Bouquet of Roses because I love you. out all my confidence in you, since your prayers before God are nost powerful. For the greater glory of God and for the sake of esus, your loving Son, hear and grant my prayer. Sweet Heart of Mary, be my salvation.

To Our Lady of the Rosary

O Virgin Mary, grant that the recitation of thy Rosary may be for me each day, in the midst of my manifold duties, a bond of unity in my actions, a tribute of filial piety, a sweet refreshment an encouragement to walk joyfully along the path of duty. Grant, above all, O Virgin Mary, that the study of thy fifteen mysteries nay form in my soul, little by little, a luminous atmosphere, pure, strengthening, and fragrant, which may penetrate my understanding, my will, my heart, my memory, my imagination, my whole being. So shall I acquire the habit of praying while work, without the aid of formal prayers, by interior acts admiration and of supplication, or by aspirations of love. I as this of thee, O Queen of the Holy Rosary, through Saint Domini thy son of predilection, the renowned preacher of thy mysteries and the faithful imitator of thy virtues. Amen.

ACT OF CONSECRATION TO OUR LADY OF THE HOLY ROSARY

The second victory that I beg of thee, is a victory over m second enemy-the world, of which the devil is prince. Help m to see its emptiness, to flee its vanities, to resist its allurement knowing that 'the friendship of this world is the enemy of God Whosoever therefore will be a friend of this world, becometh a enemy of God.

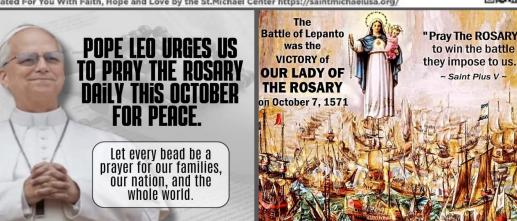

The third victory that I beg of thee, is a victory over my thir enemy-my own self, scarred and weakened by Original Sin Help me correct my values so that I may seek first the kingdon of God and love Him with my whole heart, mind, soul an strength. Plant in my mind and heart a great appreciation and desire for the spiritual things in life; and to treasure them above any treasures of this earth. Assist me in all my temptations instruct me in all virtues; help me pay for my past sins; remove me from the broad, wide road that leads to perdition and guid me along the narrow path that leads to Heaven

The fourth victory that I beg of thee, is a victory for Holy Mothe Church over the diseases currently ravaging the Mystic Body of Christ, namely those of Liberalism, Modernism Indifferentism, Secularism, Materialism and that terrible state which God threatens to vomit out of His mouth-Lukewamnes (Apoc. 3:16). Such is the state of the Church, which made the complain at Fatima that so many souls go to Hell as there ar none who pray and offer sacrifices for them. Grant that I may not forget these souls and these diseases in my daily Rosarie: for God has stated that the Rosary is a remedy for our age, an am confident of obtaining thy powerful intercession on the behalf

The fifth victory that I beg of thee, is a victory over all evi and the crown of glory in Heaven, for all my family, relative friends and benefactors; for those entrusted to my care and for those in charge over me. Obtain for them the graces and help necessary to overcome all obstacles to conversion, repentance and salvation.

For this end, do I consecrate to thee, O Queen of the most Ho Rosary, my body and soul, my goods, both interior and exterio and even the value of all my good actions, past, present an future; leaving to thee the entire and full right of disposing of me and all that belongs to me, without exception, according to ti good pleasure, for the greater glory of God, in time and in eternity. Amen.

Who Was St. Francis of Assisi?

His name was Francis...

He used to praise God the Artist in every one of God's works. Whatever joy he found in things made he referred to their maker. He rejoiced in all the works of God's hands. Everything cried out to him, "He who made us is infinitely good!"

He called animals "brother" or "sister," and he exhorted them to praise God. He would go through the streets and byways, inviting everyone to sing with him. And one time when he came upon an almond tree, he said, "Brother Almond, speak to me of God." And the almond tree blossomed.

That is what St. Francis of Assisi did, and that is what he does for us once we are caught up in his life and teachings. He makes us blossom, wherever and whoever we are. We blossom because we see in Francis what could happen to us if we were to embrace the overflowing goodness of God revealed in everything that exists, and let that embrace change us.

The patron saint of Italy, Francis of Assisi was a poor little man who astounded and inspired the Church by taking the gospel literally—not in a narrow fundamentalist sense, but by actually following all that Jesus said and did, joyfully, without limit, and without a sense of self-importance.

The story of how St. Francis of Assisi tamed the Wolf of Gubbio is one of the great legends linked with the life of the saint. I have never been worried as to whether the story was true or not. I am interested in seeing how the story fits into the pattern of biblical themes and of God's plans for creation.

Francis had dreams of becoming a knight on the battlefield. But shortly after riding off to fight against Perugia, a nearby town, he ended up in their prison, a broken and disillusioned young man. It was after his return from prison, and during the recovery that followed, that Francis' life was changed.

Only in prayer were Francis' knightly ambitions turned in a new direction; only in prayer did he find the strength to lead the people who wanted to follow him—but on their own terms. Prayer enabled him to discover the link between the Church that Jesus established and the Church that needed conversion.

People at times poke fun at some of the sappy images of Francis holding a rabbit or with birds flying around his head. And there are always those who like to belittle admirers of the saint when they place his statue in flower gardens or on a birdbath. In most cases, I beg to differ with this point of view.

We could say that St. Francis' prayer life was, "My God and my all!" and stop at that. Everything that can be stated about prayer in his life is expressed in those four little words. While the truth is contained in that brief and holy phrase, the way in which Francis reached that apex of prayer needs exploration.

Few prayers are more popular around the world and better loved than the "Peace Prayer of Saint Francis." Nearly everyone recognizes a happy harmony between the words of this prayer and the generous, joy-filled and peace-loving spirit of Francis of Assisi. Let us look at this prayer more closely.

In August 1212, if the small Umbrian city of Assisi's post office had displayed "Wanted" posters, Chiara di Favarone di Offreduccio and Francesco Bernardone might well have been on them. Their crime? Seriously disrupting the social, economic, and religious stabil-

The romanticism that has surrounded Francis over the years doesn't fit well with the historical facts. The temptation is to admire the saint, gush over his attractive qualities, and miss what he stood for. We run the risk of losing the real Francis and replacing him with an image often of our own making.

Francis' desire to experience God within himself also propelled him to lead a life modeled after the source of love: Jesus. It was a life of poverty, preaching, and penance lived in a spirit of humility. In his desire to so imitate Jesus, Francis freely shared what he already knew and pointed all to do the same.

Francis of Assisi was born into privilege and gave it up to embrace simplicity. He renounced the trappings of a comfortable life for one of penance and poverty. In this era of opulence, of having everything you could hope for at the tips of your fingers, could you do the same?

It's October! Halloween will soon be upon us!

Outreach is reaching out to our parishoners for assorted candies and chips to put into goody bags for the kids. We gave out over 1,000 bags (sorry, not 800) last year... we're expecting to hand out more this year!

Stewardship Corner

by Walter Jung

The final 'T' of the three Ts is Treasure, which is not surprisingly the least popular of the three. Giving our material resources or treasure is a natural component of true stewardship.

The Gift of Treasure in Stewardship is all about giving generously to the One who has given us so much. God's generosity cannot be matched.

In the Gospels of St. Mark and St. Luke, Jesus observed where many rich people put in large sums into the treasury while a poor widow put in two small coins worth a few cents. "Amen, I say to you, this poor widow put in more than all the other contributor's surplus wealth, but she, from her poverty, has contributed all she had, her whole livelihood" (Mark 12:11-44).

Some parishioners may feel that they have already given so much more back to the church in voluntary services and not necessarily to give more financially. Let someone else do it is a ridiculous mindset.

There is a big distinction between giving to a need and the need to give. Set a monthly budget to include a reasonable tithe where there are no significant challenges to your family living standards.

As the need arises, offer your financial resources in appreciation to Our Heavenly Father for the Gift of Treasure. God knows that using your talents for His sake, we become better people and grow deeper in our faith.

STEWARDSHIP IS HOW we use our God-given gifts; it is how we use our time, our talents, and our treasure to carry on Christ's work of reconciliation in the world.

EVERYTHING WE HAVE IS A GIFT FROM GOD

WE ARE STEWARDS OR MANAGERS OF THOSE GIFTS
